

RETHINK AND REVISE LITERACY

Keep these

The superpowers you have

As you continue to rethink and revise your teaching with the science of reading in mind, take these with you as you make revisions.

SWIPE

01

You know that building communities of readers and writers is important.

That matters.

02

You know how to listen and notice.

That matters.

03

You know children's books deeply (and look out for new ones).

That matters.

04

You teach responsively.

Meeting a kid where they are is a strength to harness in structured literacy.

That matters.

05

You don't just implement curriculum, you also build a culture.

Joy and structured literacy can happen at the same time.

That matters.

So, as you revise...

Don't forget these.

Keep them as you revise the pathways you take in your teaching. They matter!

Save this for back to school.
